With the Grace of Allah, the General Conference of the Islamic Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (ISESCO) convened its 10th session in Tunis, capital of the Tunisian Republic, from 9 to 10 Rajab 1430 A.H., corresponding to 2-3 July 2009, under the high patronage of His Excellency the President of the Tunisian Republic, as part of celebration of Kairouan as the 2009 Islamic Culture Capital, with the participation of all Member States, except for the Republic of Indonesia, the Republic of Surinam, the Republic of Kyrgyzstan, and the Republic of Lebanon. Also in attendance in this session were the representatives of the Arab, Islamic, and international organizations, along with a host of invited personalities.

In his address at the official opening ceremony, which took place in Carthage Palace under the high, effective patronage of His Excellency the President of the Tunisian Republic, H.E. Dr Abdulaziz Othman Altwaijri, Director General of ISESCO, thanked His Excellency for offering to host this session of the General Conference under his high patronage, out of His Excellency's belief in the human, civilizational mission undertaken by ISESCO on the Islamic and international levels. The Director General also pointed out the fine record of achievement made by ISESCO since its inception, and expressed confidence in the Organization's ability to carry on its achievements and mission under the new Three-Year Action Plan 2010-2012.

By the end of his address, Dr Altwaijri expressed appreciation for the achievements made by the Tunisian Republic in education, science, culture and communication, as well as in the area of civilizational advancement. He also placed on record his gratitude and appreciation to the Member States for their full support and cooperation with the Organization.

In appreciation of the outstanding efforts and initiatives undertaken by the Tunisian Republic, not only in the field of the dialogue of civilizations, but also in the area of renewable energies, H.E. Mr Jean-Paul Carteron, President of the Crans Montana Forum, granted the Medal of Honour of the Crans Montana Forum and the Foundation's Prize for 2009 to His Excellency the Tunisian President. In the same context, H.E. Dr Ali Sayigh, Chairman of the World Renewable Energy Congress/Network granted the Tunisian President the Gold Shield of the World Renewable Energy Network (WREN).

In the addresses they delivered on the occasion, Mr Jean-Paul Carteron and Dr Ali Sayigh expressed pleasure at participating in the proceedings of the 10th General Conference, as well as their pride in cooperating with the towering Organization of ISESCO. They praised, each in their field of competence, the remarkable efforts exerted by His Excellency Dr Abdulaziz Othman Altwaijri in enhancing dialogue among civilizations and cultures and promoting the use of new and renewable energies in the Member States.

His Excellency the President of the Tunisian Republic, delivered a lofty address at the opening ceremony wherein he expressed pride in ISESCO's achievements, the strategic plans it has established in various sectors and the great efforts it has exerted over 27 years to promote joint Islamic action in its fields of competence, with emphasis on the issues of educational, cultural and scientific development in the Islamic world. The Tunisian President particularly commended the active role assumed by Dr Abdulaziz Othman Altwaijri since his election as Director General of ISESCO and his successful efforts in promoting the Organization, improving its performance and enhancing its prestige.

The President also praised the international experience acquired by ISESCO, through the strong and vast network of partnership it has established with various regional and international organisations. This, the Tunisian President stressed, has made it possible to build relations and friendships that have enhanced the image of our Islamic Nation and contributed to serving its causes through a dynamic action in the UN institutions and in governmental and non-governmental organizations acting on the international scene.

The Tunisian President also exhorted ISESCO to persevere in enhancing dialogue with the principal counterparts of the Western civilisation, such as the European Union, the United States of America and Latin America, in order to remove the negative accumulations of the times of aversion, scepticism and suspicion, which gave rise to distorted stereotypic images of the other that did nothing but intensify the feelings of hatred, fanaticism and violence on both sides. He considered it a collective duty to overcome the effects of these accumulations so as to promote mutual understanding and respect between us and the other nations.

At the close of his address, the Tunisian President expressed his confidence that thanks to its prestigious status, to the experience and sustained efforts of its Director General Dr Abdulaziz Othman Altwaijri and to the collaboration of the member states, ISESCO would accomplish further achievements and promote joint Islamic action to the highest levels.

At the close of the official opening ceremony, H.E. the Tunisian President received H.E. Dr Abdulaziz Othman Altwaijri, and awarded him the “Grand of the Order of the Republic”, in appreciation of his invaluable efforts at ISESCO, and his outstanding contribution towards promoting joint Islamic action and further enhancing relationships between Tunisia and the Organization.

The plenary opening session started with an address by His Excellency Dr Ahmed Akhchichen, Minister of National Education, Higher Education, Staff Training and Scientific Research of the Kingdom of Morocco, President of the 9th General Conference of ISESCO. He described the efforts made to achieve the goals of ISESCO as highly commendable and ascribed them to the hard work of H.E. Dr Abdulaziz Othman Altwaijri in defending the Muslim identity, pinpointing its points of strength originating in the magnanimity of Islam which advocates brotherliness, peace, and coexistence among peoples and nations. He also expressed confidence that ISESCO's three-year action plan (2010-2012) will certainly provide a new insight into the issues of concern for Muslim people, thereby allowing for their sharing into the broader world educational, cultural and media issues.

The floor was then held by H.E. Dr Boubakar Doukouré, Chairman of ISESCO Executive Council, who congratulated H.E. Dr Abdulaziz Othman Altwaijri on the genuine tribute and glowing words of praise he and ISESCO receive from His Excellency the President. He expressed thanks to His Excellency the Tunisian President, the Tunisian government and the Tunisian people for such warm praise and generous tribute, which he said would infuse the members of the Executive Council and the General Conference with strong resolve to continue serving the goals and interests of ISESCO and, through it, the Muslim world. He was inspired with great confidence that wider horizons would open for ISESCO, especially after the re-election of H.E. Dr Abdulaziz Othman Altwaijri for two consecutive, renewable three-year terms of office as Director General of ISESCO.

On his part, ISESCO Director General extended his sincerest thanks, appreciation and gratitude to His Excellency the President of the Tunisian Republic, for presiding over the opening ceremony of the Conference at Carthage Palace and delivering a lofty address to the General Conference honourable members. The Director General proposed to have the Tunisian President's speech as a groundwork document for the Conference. The proposal was approved by the General Conference.

The Director General pointed out the significant achievements made by the Organization in the interval between the 9th and 10th General Conference sessions in relation to the implementation of the Action Plan 2007-2009, and underlined ISESCO's resolve to pursue its action in its areas of competence in the service of the Member States. The Director General also placed on record his thanks and gratefulness to H.E. the Tunisian President for granting him the "Grand Collar of the Order of the Republic".

Ambassador Hemayat Uddin, Director General for Cultural and Social Affairs at the General Secretariat of the Organization of the Islamic Conference, who read out the address of H.E. Professor Ekmeleddin Ihsanoglu, Secretary General of the OIC. In this regard, he commended the initiatives of H.E. the Tunisian President to promote the true image of Islam, most notably His Excellency's initiative to proclaim 2010 an International Year of the Youth, and his call to convene, on that occasion, an international conference on the youth. H.E. the OIC Secretary General also expressed appreciation to ISESCO for its commendable track record, and described as praiseworthy the programmes and activities conducted by ISESCO in consolidating understanding among peoples, particularly through education, science, culture and communication. He explained that the conferences and workshops held by ISESCO towards raising the profile of Islamic culture, preserving Islamic cultural sites, celebrating Islamic culture capitals, promoting dialogue among civilizations and enhancing quality scientific and technological education in the interest of Muslims, all have earned the Organization its well-deserved reputation. The credit for the achievements of ISESCO, the statement added, must go to its Director General Dr Abdulaziz Othman Altwaijri for his wise leadership and the tireless efforts of ISESCO staff.

It also reaffirmed the status of Al-Quds as capital of the Independent State of Palestine, rejected any attempt to undermine the Palestinian sovereignty over it, and stressed that all the settlement measures and practices in the holy city are null and void in accordance with the resolutions of the international legitimacy as well as international covenants and instruments which consider that all the legal and administrative arrangements and measures of the Israeli settlements designed to change the legal, demographic, architectural, historical and civilizational status of the city are null and void and run counter to the resolutions of the international legitimacy and international instruments.
